

You'll See Signs of Flowers 5 Days After You Switch Your Lights, Instead of 10

Here Is A Formula GUARANTEED To Give You Astonishing Yields – And Much Faster Than You're Used To

For years growers have known it takes about 7 to 9 weeks to finish the bloom phase. Or about 7 to 10 days after changing light cycles to start the bloom phase.

But every once in awhile there is a scientific discovery that is so revolutionary, it changes the rules everybody "knows".

BUD IGNITOR

by Advanced Nutrients is just such a discovery.

Bud Ignitor uses a special bloom-signaling ingredient, that is natural and bio-friendly, to trigger an amplified and accelerated bloom response. Essentially, Bud Ignitor doesn't "do" anything by itself. It simply talks to your plants, and tells them, "it's time to bloom." That way, they put all of their growing energy into blooming gorgeous, heavy flowers. And oh, how well they listen...

When you use Bud Ignitor, you'll see signs of flowers in 5 days instead of 10.

Erik Biksa, of the Hydroponics Secrets blog, and editor of Rosebud Magazine's Hydroponics Section, couldn't believe his eyes. He says, "I was blown away, I had to keep double-checking the calendar." In a side-by-side grow, Erik used Bud Ignitor in the first two weeks of the bloom phase and the results were phenomenal. What took the control plant more than 8 weeks of growth only took the plant with Bud Ignitor 7 weeks.

And if you'd like to see these results in your growing, you can do it risk-free!

When you use Bud Ignitor, it's guaranteed to perform. If you're not blown away with how quickly and dramatically your plants burst into the bloom phase, return it with proof of purchase for a complete and immediate refund.

We want you to feel good about using Bud Ignitor!

So let us take the risk. Let us prove to you just how amazing your yields can be when you have over a week's head start on your bloom phase! If you don't get these results for yourself, we don't get paid.

Charles, Needham, Massachusetts "One thing I noticed about Bud Ignitor it mixes easy with other additives and the hydroponics nutrients program. I could see that the flowers popped out on the plants a lot quicker. And also I could see that later on they were bigger. This is what I wanted when I bought it and I am glad it came through for me."

Ryan Farmer "Day 7 of flowering. Noticed some huge pistil configurations thanks to Bud Ignitor! Pricey, but well worth it! Thanks guys!"

Kaleb Zemke "Already been using Bud Ignitor for about a month now, worth every cent and then some!!!"
